The Right Time

Ultra

I'm talking out loud, I'm here to be found
Are you proud of who you are?
I'm making mistakes on the way but I'm trying hard
If we all stand up when the going gets rough
And baby we hold out for better things
Then we all can be the ones who shine on
Everybody knows that
This is my time to say goodbye
I've changed my mind girl
You're never gonna stop me
You're love isn't strong enough
For me to hold on to
I'm caught in a crowd, I'm stuck in the ground
But I just keep moving around
I can turn almost anything bad into something good
If we all stand up when the going gets rough
And baby we hold out for better things
Then we all can be the ones who shine on
Everybody knows that
This is my time to say goodbye
I've changed my mind girl
You're never gonna stop me
You're love isn't strong enough
For me to hold on to
This is the right time to say goodbye
I've changed my mind girl
You're never gonna get it
You're love isn't strong enough
For me to hold on to
So you think that a compromise
Could help you build a better life
The information you have been receiving
Is confused, untrue and not only that
It can make you feel used, make you feel trapped
Don't ever (don't ever), we never (we never)
'Cos living in dreams can hold you back
You better believe we're nothing like that
We all can be the ones who shine on
Everybody knows that

This is my time to say goodbye
I've changed my mind girl
You're never gonna stop me
You're love isn't strong enough
For me to hold on to
This is the right time to say goodbye
I've changed my mind girl
You're never gonna get it
You're love isn't strong enough
For me to hold on to [Repeat till fade]
