

Second Chances

Imagine Dragons

older than water stubborn as stone there'll be no forgiveness for all that you've known oh these days oh these days get heavy hotter than friction subtle as sound there'll be no forgiveness for you to come around oh these days oh these days get heavy I get older and life fades but you remain open up again I believe in second chances please let me in oh I believe in second chances I won't break you I will not let you down open up again I believe in second chances quicker than lightning whiter than bone if you can erase it then I can atone oh these days oh these days get heavy I get older and life fades but you remain open up again I believe in second chances
I won't break you I will not let you down open up again I believe in second chances forgive me forgive me open up again I believe in second chances
please let me in oh I believe in second chances
open up again I believe in second chances goodnight (x8)
