Waiting For Wednesday

Lisa Loeb

Waiting for Wednesday, my stomach doesn't hurt enough

Pain always is the sign

Waiting for Wednesday, no proof of mine exists

So I don't have to take it backDon't want to show you good-bye

Show you good-bye

Show you good-bye

Show you good-byeBut you're waiting for Wednesday

Waiting for Wednesday

Waiting for Wednesday

I pray you'll put me on the spot

I do believe you, that you'll love me, that you'll leave meDon't want to show you good-bye

Show you good-byeWhat will I do when you come near to me?

You'll put me on the spot

You've been doing this a long, long time

Not that you're better than me, but that you do it a lotNow I'm waiting for Wednesday

Waiting for Wednesday

Waiting for Wednesday

I'm waiting for WednesdayI'm gonna show you good-bye

Show you good-bye

Show you good-bye

Show you good-byeNow I'm waiting for Wednesday, you're back from out of town

The west is dry, your mind is clear and I don't want to be here

I don't want to be here, I don't want to be here, to show you good-byeAnd I'm waiting for Wednesday

Waiting for Wednesday

I'm waiting for Wednesday

To show you good-byeI don't want to be here

(Waiting for Wednesday)

Waiting for Wednesday

(To show you good-bye)

(Wednesday)

To show you good-bye

(Waiting for Wednesday)I don't want to be here

(Waiting for Wednesday)

I don't want to be here

(Waiting for Wednesday)

(To show you good-bye)

To show you good-bye

Show you good-bye

(Wednesday)

I don't want to be hereWaiting for Wednesday

To show you good-bye

To show you good-bye
