

Countdown

Ayer

Started the countdown as soon as I left in the morning
It's a sad fuss these hands cant move me closer to you fast enough Sick, wicked games they're keepin' me from my danger loveHot as a cast iron, in 30 days I'll be hotter than pure molten lava
Can't make it through the day thinkin' about you without a blood clot
These pictures in my phone ain't company enough
I miss my danger loveCountdown 'til you put your hands on me
Countdown 'til you learn what you don't know about me
Countdown 'til you put your hands on me
Countdown 'til you learn what you don't know about meThis state of affairs is playin' games with my head
3000 miles away, I'm obsessed with your position
Feel fucked without you, I know you'll wait patiently but what if you run when you learn what you don't know about meHigh on too many drugs, not actin' myself this lump in my throat is all you
Our empire stands no chance if the king has no truth Fearful you'll learn I can only fly in my dreams
I'm full of danger loveCountdown 'til you put your hands on me
Countdown 'til you learn what you don't know about me
Countdown 'til you put your hands on me
Countdown 'til you learn what you don't know about meThis state of affairs is playin' games with my head
3000 miles away, I'm obsessed with your position
Feel fucked without you, I know you'll wait patiently
but what if you run when you learn what you don't know about me
