Castaways

Common Rider

Can you hear the call of a blood-seated song singing "battered old castaways why don't you come home?"It's a long way back, but we're gonna go home 'cause there ain't nothing where we've been going
If the night chills to the bone Gonna hold you through 'till dawn It's a long way back, but we're gonna go homeWanna take you back to our home town gonna kiss you in the tides of the power and the soundChorus
