Sparks

Chamberlain

Delicate endless flow
Running down my electric wire
Sunshine and midnight glow
Lighting discharge and eternal fire

Sparks are flying in my head
Fading softly, playing dead
Sparks are flying in my head
Sparks are flying in her head

Headlights are glowing dim
Silly words looking for a meaning
Thinking of who will win
Fire is stopped and nobody's winning

Sunset is burning out
Getting no sleep till the happy hour
What if we lived without?
Something we always knew was ours

Sparks are flying in my head
Fading softly, playing dead
Sparks are flying in my head
Sparks are flying in her head

Sparks are flying in my head
Fading softly, playing dead
Sparks are flying in my head
Sparks are flying in her head

Head, head, head, head, head, head, head
Sparks are flying
