The Understudy

RADIORADIO

I wanna know that you're always watching,
reading my rate, studying my vital signs,
every where I go, the beat of Saturday night.Give me the love that only comes with money.
Give me the fame, give me eternal life.
I've left the earth but I've left so much behind.Because I believe in destiny,
no longer the understudy...I'm breaking thru now!
and like a white-hot satellite,
I'm ready to look for life.Take me back, take me all the way back,
before the sun, before all of space and time.
I wanna be there when God was learning his lines.Because I believe in destiny,
no longer the understudy...I'm breaking thru now!
And like a white-hot satellite,
I'm ready to look for life.
I'm breaking thru now!
Approaching at the speed of light,
the impact will be so bright!
This moment will be mine,
always will be mine
the moment will be mine
always will be mine.I studied every single line.
I learned all the notes in time.Because I believe in destiny
no longer the understudy...I'm breaking thru now!
and like a white-hot satellite,
I'm ready to look for life
I'm breaking thru now!
Approaching at the speed of light,
the impact will be so bright!
I'm breaking thru now!
and i can feel it so sublime.
I look so young, so light!
This moment will be mine,
always will be mine
the moment will be mine...
always will be mine.
