I'd Kill To Fall Asleep

New Found Glory

Eyes open, I'm wide awake
I feel I'm in a coma state
I'll lay here on my back and watch the fan turnConversations cross my mind
But not that of the speaking kind
TV images repeat there one lineBack and forth I toss and turn
It feels like strings are holding up my eyesI'd kill to fall asleep
I'd kill to fall asleepI'm putting up a losing fight
I'll never see this end tonight
The thought of just one dream it consumes meNumbers on the clock turn back
My pills are having no effect
The beating of my heart keeps the time goingBack and forth I toss and turn
It feels like strings are holding up my eyesI'd kill to fall asleep
I'd kill to fall asleepThey say that when you sleep your body's at rest
I wouldn't know what sleep felt like if I tried my best
If Polaroids and memories can fade away, so can IBack and forth I toss and turn
It feels like strings are holding up my eyesI'd kill to fall asleep
I'd kill to fall asleepI'd kill to fall asleep
I'd kill to fall asleepI'd kill
