

They Remind Me Too Much of You

Elvis Presley

Take away, the scent of flowers
Cover up, the sky of blue
Close my ears to tender love songs
They remind me too much of you Hide young lovers warm embraces
Keep stars and moonlight from my view
Let me forget, there are such places
They remind me too much of you Must I evermore be haunted?
Day after day, my whole life through
By the memory of each moment
That I spent alone with you If these lovely things don't hurt you
Our love just wasn't meant to be
But please come back to me, my darling

Songwriters

ROBERTSON, DON Published by Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>