Lipstick Licking

Milburn

The lights they start to flicker, moving in the sky
And the lips with their lipstick licking seem to pass me by, oh my
The big boy with the headlight glare says we're telling lies
And I know we're in for it when I see him looking over
And he's giving me the evil eyeBut the thought of you in my mind knows I'm never gonna go wrong
'Cause you and me both we're singing the same song
I can tell by the look in your eye that we're never gonna go wrong
We'll go on and on and onThe big boy won't let him go, he says to apologize
And I know we're in for it when somebody wanders over
Just to smack him right between the eyesBut the thought of you in my mind knows I'm never gonna go wrong
'Cause you and me both we're singing the same song
I can tell by the look in your eye that we're never gonna go wrong
We'll go on and on and onBut the thought of you in my mind knows I'm never gonna go wrong
'Cause you and me both we're singing the same song
I can tell by the look in your eye that we're never gonna go wrong
We'll go on and on and on
