

Today Will Be Better, I Swear! (Flaming)

Stars

When can't get up to the cold morning light
But you don't get to sleep in, still dreaming
And everybody only wants to fight
You're up against never being right
When the worries of the world hold your feet
And there's little left to believe in
Today, today, it's gonna be a better one
There's nothing more to take in, going wrong
Today, today, it's gonna be a better one
There's nothing more to take in, going wrong
There's nothing more to take in, going wrong
Old pale memories of someone you knew
Keep crawling through the back of your mind, stealin' time
And in the daylight, you're crossing all your wires
You never knew just how to put out a fire
And the closet's been shaken with bones
Little reminders that you're out on your own
Today, today, it's gonna be a better one
There's nothing more to take in, going wrong
Today, today, it's gonna be a better one
There's nothing more to take in, going wrong
There's nothing more to take in, going wrong

Songwriters

Torquil John Campbell;Patrick Mc Gee;Amy Millan;Christopher Allen Seligman;Evan Whitney

Cranley
Published by
BUCKS MUSIC LTD.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>