Monsters

Funeral for a Friend

Scattered seeds and breaking storms
Won't make a decent lie for you
Naked and with every breath you climb the stairs
Step by step and I don't need thisAnd I don't need to be saved
Five steps away from this cliff top
And birds sing their praises
To this weary world that haunts my weary soulThere are monsters here
And as you scream, it makes no sense
It makes no sense
It makes no sense at allThere are monsters here
And as you scream, it makes no sense
It makes no sense
It makes no sense at allIn every despair
I'll find you standing there
Waiting with the bitter taste
Of envy on your sleeveBecause tonight is our night
And I don't want this
No, so won't you let me goThere are monsters here
And as you scream, it makes no sense
It makes no sense
It makes no sense at allThere are monsters here
And as you scream, it makes no sense
It makes no sense,
It makes no sense at allAs every animal will find itself a home
As every man and woman, well, they'll just lose control
And we can make ourselves believe
That I don't want this, I don't need this
No, I have this to myselfThere are monsters here
And as you scream, it makes no sense
It makes no sense
It makes no sense at allIn every despair
I'll find you standing there
It makes no sense
It makes no sense at allSense at all
Sense at all
