

Janice

Robin Gibb

Tried before to see you more
When you saw me you closed the door
I saw a sailor walk you home
You left me standing all alone
I strolled away in pouring rain
It seemed your love for me had waned Remember long ago
Your eyes were love, our hearts would flow
And now the rain has washed away
The meaning of that old café Janice promise one more kiss
Don't look back on times like this
You still are my Shangri-La
You are still my shining star Now I'll take my old black coat
And go through all those notes you wrote
I'll think of how you hurt my eyes
I'll write your name in cloud-dotted skies Janice promise one more kiss
Don't look back on times like this
You still are my Shangri-La
You are still my shining star Janice promise one more kiss
Don't look back on times like this
You still are my Shangri-La
You are still my shining star Janice promise one more kiss
Don't look back on times like this
You still are my shining star
You are still my Shangri-La

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>