I Want to Go

Chase Huglin

I want to go down the road where I used to live find the park in the woods where we used a kiss, put on a song that will remind you of somewhere warm the things that I would give to wake up next to you again

I want to see if there's a spot in your heart and if there is you think that you could talk me into it.
You wanted to flee from the scene you found a new life and a new boy and a brand new routine you wanted to feel healthy whatever that means, I want to just rot out all of my teeth to show you how much you mean to me.

I want to see if there is a spot in your heart, is there room for me, could you make some room for me? I want to see if there is a spot in your heart, and if there is, think you could talk me into it?
