which one do you want to be like and do you want to be liked by one of = them what's wrong with the way you are now and is it hard to be the way = you are i know i've been through this before and so will you go through = this you'll have your day find out what you have on your mind and have a = spine to stand up and choose your way not fair never will be for you not = supposed to be that easy for us try hard try to keep it in line and by = the time you get it won't matter then so long hope you have a good life = don't take advise from me or from anyone so long you're gonna fall on = your face just like i did and just like everyone
