Agitating Affliction

Cynic

A prevalent personality
Susceptible to understand
Pressured with an easy procedure
Returned with a demandYou impatient wayward one
Can't deal with reality's harsh truth
You've been agitated by a supposed young fool
You just can't loseBecause you've been agitated
You turn to affliction in distress
A most important virtue you don't have
Living life only to regressWith all your arrogance
You ask for a favor and I refuse
You've been defamated by a young fool
With haughty views toward youUnnecessary attitude
Agitating moods
Pressured with decisions
Applying affliction so profuse
Vain glory within yourself
A life that's meant to be an empty folio
Agitating affliction
Is the problem that you have
And you don't even know[lead: Paul]You're minus one virtue
The virtue is patience can't you see?
Useless retaliation is your fault
Administering affliction is how you feed[lead: Jason]A prevalent personality
Susceptible to understand
Pressured with an easy procedure
Returned with a demandYou impatient wayward one
Can't deal with reality's harsh truth
You've been agitated by a supposed young fool
You just can't lose...
You just can't lose!
