

Awake

Freedom Church

My heart was lost and I was drowning
In a hurricane of doubt and You reached for me
You held on and wrapped Your arms around me
And promised that You'll never leave
You're here with me

My dark became light with You
You opened my eyes

You wake me from the sleep inside
When I found You, I found my life
You make these dead bones rise
Now Your victory is mine

Now I will follow You through fire
Wherever You would call me I'll run to You
Nothing can separate us,
Nothing can ever change this
I know You're still with me

My dark became light with You
You opened my eyes

You wake me from the sleep inside
When I found You, I found my life
You make these dead bones rise
Now Your victory is mine

You wake me from the sleep inside
When I found You, I found my life
You make these dead bones rise
Now Your victory is mine
