

IV. The Rebirthers

Pivot

The journey begins from a point of no return. As the masses gather progress stagnates with their minds. Keep moving forward. Realize that you can self sustain.

Time to rise, not rewind, by creating the experience that makes us stronger. Feel the need and the power from a will no longer bound by fortune and faith.

Down with those that claim what you do will never change. To hell with anyone that tries to break the circles you have made. As the masses gather faith and fiction will collide. They are the ones that never do. They are the ones that sit and wait to die.

Time to rise, not rewind, by creating the experience that makes us stronger. Feel the need and the power from a will no longer bound by fortune and faith.

Live if you want to. Time will not help you. I cannot push you. Live if you want to live.
