Mephisto

Strung Out

One more time then I'll know one more lie then I'll go away pour another drink and I'll ease myself into the comforts of your philosophy try to understand your friend in need and I'm here to make it easier you and I are one in the same we're built alike in so many ways you can't understand and you won't accept your secrets are all safely kept here inside we're so lost I can be the one to find you everything that you deserve no request will ever go unheard you're better off without me now but without me here you're just better off alone just wait and see you're just like me conversation's getting stale a penny for your thoughts one small betrayal does no man know what he's good for does no man want what he's asked for it takes our design I've spent a lifetime waiting for the chance to chase these devils away but they always come smiling when you need 'em the most so I'll end this night alone again with nothing to offer and nothing to give conversations spoken in vein alone so go away it's easier if I stay so go away its easier this way

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/