You've Got To Live A Little

Texas

Have you still got the illusion
Of what's lying ahead
Then you'd still have your innocence
And days wouldn't seem so bad
But I've always wondered
Why you've never grown but now I know
Yes, you've gotta take a little time for yourself
You gotta live a little life on your own
Yes, you've gotta take a little time for yourself
It's just what you're needing
Storms always make you happy
They hide everything inside
Make believe that they're soft to touch
Then they blind you with their light
That's why I've always wondered
Why you've never grown but now I know
Yes, you gotta take a little time for yourself
You gotta live a little life on your own
Yes, you've gotta take a little time for yourself
It's just what you're needing
I know what ya needing, yes I do
But I've always wondered
Why have you, you've never grown
And now I know
You gotta take a little time for yourself
You gotta live a little life on your own
Yes, you've gotta take a little time for yourself
It's just what you're needing
Lord it's what you're needing, yeah
Take a little time for yourself
Gotta live a little life on your own
Take a little time for yourself
Take a little time for yourself
Gotta live a little life on your own
Take a little time for yourself
