

Northern Highway

Martin Courtney

Heading down a northern highway
Blinded by the setting sun
Try and do this the right way
You don't wanna hurt no one
Life down here can make you weary
Folks back home all wish you well
I just wish I had you near me, baby
I don't stand a chance in Hell
Do you feel just like a stranger
Do you feel just like a shell
Alien and yet familiar
Like it now I'm on a shelf
Up here
As much as we're a little tired
As much as we can't find our way
I know that we cannot retire
Where the seasons never change
Fly across the biggest ocean
To try and make a brand new start
I know I'll take with me the notion
Of having left behind my heart
Do you feel just like a stranger
Do you feel just like a shell
Alien and yet familiar
Like it now I'm on a shelf
Do you feel just like a stranger
Do you feel just like a shell
Alien and yet familiar
Like it now I'm on a shelf
Up here
Up here
Up here
Up here
Up here
