

Saviour

Black Veil Brides

I never meant to be the one who kept you from the dark
But now I know my wounds are sown because of who you are
 I will take this burden on and become the holy one
 But remember I am human and I'm bound to sing this song
 So hear my voice,
 Remind you not to bleed
 I am here
 Saviour! Will be there
 When you are feeling alone, ohhh
 A saviour, for all that you do
 So you may live freely without their harm
 So here I write my lullaby, to all the lonely ones
 Remember as you learn to try to be the one you love
 So I can take this pen and teach you how to live
 But what is left unsaid, the greatest gift I give.
 So hear my voice
 Remind you not to bleed
 I am here

 Saviour! Will be there
 When you are feeling alone, ohhh
 A saviour for all that you do
 So you live freely without their harm
 Saviour! Will be there
 When you are feeling alone, ohhh
 A saviour for all that you do
 So you may live freely without their harm
 When I hear your cries:
 Praying for life
 I will be there.
 When I hear your cries:
 Praying for life
 I will be there!!!
 I will be there!
 I will always be there!
 I will be there!
