Drummer

KhoMha

Fourteen, I lost my dad, it's true
Fifteen, I didn't know what to do
Well at sixteen I learned to drive
At seventeen to stay aliveAnd I was a drummer in a band that you've heard of Isn't that the way it goes?Eighteen, I think that's when we met
Nineteen, I wish I could forget
Well at twenty I moved away
To say the least I didn't stayAnd I was a drummer in a band that you've heard of
And I was a drummer in a band that you've heard of
Isn't that the way it goes?If I know you you'll change your mind
You've been changing all the timeAnd I was a drummer in a band that you've heard of
And I was a drummer in a band that you've heard of
And I was a drummer in a band that just broke up
Isn't that the way it, isn't that the way it
Isn't that the way it goes?
