One More Time

Kelly Willis

One more time before you break my heart, dear
Won't you hold me in your arms? Oh, how I need to hear you tell me
One more time that I'm your one and only
And I'll believe you because I need to one more timeI thought I had the will and the strength to walk away
Instead I'm standing still and trembling when I say Darling, one more time the last time that I'll ask you
And I'll beg you if I have to one more timeOne more time I'm left to dream without you
And I'll always dream about you, oh, how I pray that I'll be with you
One more time we'll face this world together
And forever we'll be one one more time
But until then, darling, hold me one more time

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/