Forgotten, Not Forgiven

Just Surrender

I'm watching your eyes move slowly
Up and down my silhouette
And I wonder if you get it yetThis is the last time I crawl away
On these broken knees
And don't you wish it all would be okay?Promise me, you'll forget me
You said as you walked away
Don't hold on, please, let go of me
You make it so hard to leaveAnd I can't breathe without you here
For fear, I'll catch your scent
And we both know how bad I getI don't do well or dwell in change
And don't you know that
Three small words could make this all okay?Promise me, you'll forget me
You said as you walked away
Don't hold on, please, let go of me
You make it so hard to leaveYou promised me
You'll never forget me
You promised me
You'll never forgetPromise me, you'll forget me
You said as you walked away
Don't hold on, please, let go of me
You make it so hard to leavePromise me, you'll forget me
You said as you walked away
"Promise me, you'll forget me"
