Eldest 11

This fight is endless....You know....

Cause even if you win this....

You've still lost control....of your soul in my hands....

When I find your bath of lies within....

You'll burst into flames....These are the days of our lives.....

With the things you'd say overtime....

I wonder?

There's only so many times you can cut the same wound again.....So I abuse her! I know it's wrong!
because I'm waiting for something better to come along.My ears burned, from your empty words....

Things I stored underneath my chest plate....

and time after time, you lead me astray.....These are the days of our lives.....

With the things you'd say overtime....

and I wonder?

There's only so many times you can cut the same wound again.....So I abuse her! I know it's wrong!
because I'm waiting for something better to come along.

So I abuse her! To get me through!

and I medicate when you're not here because I don't need you!
