Suffocate

Crossfade

I drew a picture I could sell
A broken image of myself
It turns around and mirrors me
Then it fade out
This empty image of myself
A different view from someone else
It turns and slowly counts to three then it fades out
Then it fades out
Why can't I be myself?
I've tried - still need someone to help me out this time
So I'll never suffocate again

This lonely bed that I have made
I pray that nothing stays the same
Forget these useless memories
Let 'em fade out - Let 'em fade out
Why can't I be myself?
I've tried - still need someone to help me out this time
Stop me from breathing you in
So I'll never suffocate again
Let me be - just let me be - let me be myself
Stop me from breathing you in
So I'll never suffocate again
