

Mirror Mirror Part II (feat. Casey Lee Williams)

Jeff Williams

Who am I to complain?
My life's been spared so much pain
Born with all that I need
My comforts all guaranteedSo what's the problem
What's keeping me
From moving forward
It's hard to seeI should be free now
I should be fine
But the life I fought for
Still isn't mineSome believe in fairy stories
And the ghosts that they can't see
I know that I could do so much
If I could just believe in me
Mirror mirror
Tell me something
Can I stop my fall?Years of scorn will leave you cold
'Forget your dreams do what you're told'
When disapproval's all you're shown
The safest place becomes aloneAnd isolation's
The price you pay
And every friendship
Is pushed awayBut bit by bit now
A step each day
I'm slowly starting
To find my waySome believe in fairy stories
And the ghosts that they can't see
I know that I could do so much
If I could just believe in me
Mirror mirror
I'll tell you something
I think I might change it all

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damlyrics.com/>