

Everyone Was Still

The Robot Ate Me

i blinked and you were gone. everyone around me was dead. everyone around me was dead. i looked out the window and asked if i was alone, but the air was still, the air was still! (i guess that's why i was scared because i thought you might be too) i searched through bodies, but only found change everyone i thought was alive tried to kill me i ran, but never fast enough i fell, but never hard enough everyone everywhere was
