Miss You

Maria

Do you still remember twenty five of December?
You told me forever, you and I would be together
The memory still lingers, the diamond, my finger
The promise that you'd break, believing it was my mistakeThe house, the dreams, the plans it seems
We had to let the picture fade
And so unfair, but it was clear
We had to go out separate waysI wonder what you're like nowadays
Oh, oh, I used to know
Something tells me that you've changed
Oh, oh, baby I wonderCan't lie, you cross my mind sometimes
That's why I wonder what you're like nowadays
Oh, oh, I wonder, I wonder, I wonderI find my self missing the flowers that you'd bring
I thought you were my king, so why am I here reminiscing?
It's not that I'm hoping to fix what's been broken
But something so deep is not forgotten easilyI wonder what you're like nowadays
Oh, oh, I used to know
Something tells me that you've changed
Oh, oh, baby I wonderCan't lie, you cross my mind sometimes
That's why I wonder what you're like nowadays
Oh, oh, I wonder, I wonder, I wonderI know that you might be loving someone else
But boy, I bet that you still think about me too
And even though I know that things will never be the same
I think it's alright for me to wonder, what you're like nowadays

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/