Beats There a Heart so True

Perry Como

Someone who would try to understand
Someone who'd be thrilled to touch my hand
An' through all eternity, she'd be good for only me
Beats there a heart so true?Someone who could make her lips so warm
That my lonely heart could brave each storm
Someone who'd be miles away, still within her heart I'd stay
Beats there a heart so true?Or, did I ask too much, when I met you?
Or, was the task too much to just be a little true?
I've been told it only hurts a while
But my broken heart won't crack a smileTill that someone comes along
With a love that proves me wrong
Beats there a heart so true?I've been told it only hurts a while
But my broken heart won't crack a smile
Till that someone comes along
With a love that proves me wrong
Beats there a heart so true?So true
