

Auslander

Living Colour

In a new place, in a strange land
An undone new world, not a part of the plan
Hatred and fear is the language I know
Out of my home, out of control Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got?
Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got? How much more do you think I can take?
I yield to your smile, a victim's mistake
I don't want your life, I've got my own needs
A life of my own, a chance to be free Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got?
Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got? Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got?
Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got?
Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got?
Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got?
