Auslander

Living Colour

In a new place, in a strange land
An undone new world, not a part of the plan
Hatred and fear is the language I know

Out of my home, out of controlEverything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got? Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got? How much more do you think I can take?

I yield to your smile, a victim's mistake I don't want your life, I've got my own needs

A life of my own, a chance to be freeEverything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got? Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got? Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got?

Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got? Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got? Everything that I want, isn't it everything that you've got?
