The Final Word

The Barbarones

Chorus
Love knows my name, sees my need
Gives me hope and covers me
Even through the middle of the storm
Love has no fear, finds no blame
The truth will never change
After every voice is heard
Love has the final wordSeems like every time I look around
I see things I thought were kingdoms
Crashing to the ground
And I can't help but wonder where I standSometimes life is like a battlefield
Where I've walked among the wounded
And the scars are all too real
But I will not surrender to the painFor what has been and what is now
And what is yet to be Gives me every reason to believeRepeat ChorusOh tell me what it is That I can't see
That would somehow cause a stranger
To give his life for meWith nothing I could offer in return
Well I could turn around and walk away
But I'd have to be a fool
To not accept the price he paidKnowing it was more than I deserved
For what I know and what I feel
And what I can't explain
Won't erase the fact that still remainsRepeat ChorusI know faith can move mountains
I know hope keeps us strong
But only love holds the answers
To all the mysteries . That's why I believeRepeat ChorusRepeat chorus

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/