Raise The Barn

Keith Urban

Well, there ain't no strangers
When you're swinging a hammer side by side
Yeah, we had a little setback
But ain't nothing gonna stop this southern pride, no, noSo people let's pull together now boys
Once again this town's gonna make some noiseWe'll be square-dancing, toe tappin'
We'll be kickin' up our heels to the 'Cotton-Eyed Joe'
Music and laughter gonna raise the rafter
There's a little boot sliding across the floorDo a little hand holding, hay-rolling
Strolling with your honey by your side
Dixie cups and paper plates fiddle tunes in 'Amazing Grace'
Hallelujah, gonna raise the barn tonight, yeahWell, Lord, he was willing
But to creep the rides up anyhow
Yeah, the bossman don't seem to care
So it's up to us to gather 'roundThe stars'll shine a little brighter than before
It's gonna come alive when we swing open the doorAnd we'll be square-dancing, toe tappin'
We'll be kickin' up our heels to the 'Cotton-Eyed Joe'
Music and laughter gonna raise the rafter
A little boot sliding across the floorDo a little hand holding, hay-rolling
Strolling with your honey by your side
Dixie cups and paper plates fiddle tunes in 'Amazing Grace'
Hallelujah, gonna raise the barn tonightSo people let's pull together now boys
Once again this town's gonna make some noise
Everybody makes some noiseAnd we'll be square-dancing, toe tappin'
We'll be kickin' up our heels to the 'Cotton-Eyed Joe'
Music and laughter gonna raise the rafter
A little boot sliding across the floorDo a little hand holding, hay-rolling
Strolling with your honey by your side
Dixie cups and paper plates fiddle tunes in 'Amazing Grace'
Hallelujah, gonna raise the barn tonight, yeahCome on now let's gather 'round
Gonna give it up and all throw down
Hallelujah gonna raise the barn tonight, yeah
Raise the barn tonightRaise the barn tonight

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/