

Stranger

Lissie

i thought you said that you were single so what's that thing your hanging 'round your finger you caught me all alone when a knock came at the door that brought me to my feet and dropped you to the floorchorus: oh wait a minute now stranger im not sure I like your angle no, i gotta go when shove comes to push and push comes to shove you're not the kind of man that i want to give my love i covered up my bruises and gave away my sins so what makes you think that i would let you in chorus and my manner is a matter of taste i warned you that you were only wasting your time i asked nicely, please get out of my face excuse me i'm not yours i am mine chorus so save yourself the trouble when this thing blows you'll just be rubble..chorus
