

Blinded

Steve Wariner

I didn't mean to stumble
And I didn't mean to fall
But it's hard to keep your balance
When you're running into walls
But there's an explanation baby
For the situation I'm in
I am blinded by the light of your love
I don't know where I'm going or which way is up
I've never been lost and liked it so much
I am blinded by the light of your love
It's hard to see a miracle
When standing up too close
It's difficult to focus
When it's right beneath your nose
Till love makes its correction
And determines the direction for me
(I'll be)
I am blinded by the light of your love
I don't know where I'm going or which way is up
I've never been lost and liked it so much
I am blinded by the light of your love
I didn't mean to stumble
And I didn't mean to fall
But it's hard to keep your balance
When you're running into walls
But there's an explanation baby
For the situation I'm in
I am blinded by the light of your love
I don't know where I'm going or which way is up
I've never been lost and liked it so much
I am blinded by the light of your love
I am blinded by the light of your love
I don't know where I'm going or which way is up
I've never been lost and liked it so much
I am blinded by the light of your love
