One Heart-Million Voices

New Empire

It may be over for now
But I am sure I'll see you again
One day my friend
When lights fade away
The memory remainsTime may take us, take us far away
Surely time, time can bring us back together
Like an old school reunion
I'll be standing at the door
And you'll still look the sameOne heart with a million voices
One day it could all be gone
Hold on to the words they told us
Hold on to it all my son
Oh oh oh oh woah woah
Oh oh oh woah woah
Oh oh oh ohhhhhIt may be over for us
But seasons change, oh they change for a reason
With the autumn leaves that fall down
I wrote your name across them all
So you know that I'm here with you
And the spring is coming soon my friendOne heart with a million voices
One day it could all be gone
Hold on to the words they told us
Hold on to it all my son
One heart with a million voices
One chance to remember your name
Hold on to the words they told us
Hold on to it allJust stay forever
Can't come back to me
Just stay forever
Can't come back to me
Would you just stay forever
Can't come backOne heart with a million voices
One day it could all be gone
Hold on to the words they told us
Hold on to it all my son
One heart with a million voices
One chance to remember your name
Hold on to the words they told us
Hold on to it all

Oh oh woah oh woaah [x8]
