

Will Someday Change

Our Lady Peace

You say that love is a disease
Restless in its company
Like a river to the sea is where you run
You say that all the birds have flown
The heart an antique turned to stone
There is comfort in this great unknown
All that you say
All that you've known
Will someday change
You say forgiveness don't last long
You hear the ticking of the bomb
Leaves you wondering where it all went wrong
