

Why Did You Go

Uriah Heep

I woke up today with my head in a daze 'cause my love had gone
With nothing to do, just to dream about you and how we went wrong

But oh, why did you go?

I loved you so, didn't you know?

I walk into town with my head hangin' down, tryin' to hide my pain

The people I meet as I float down the street, tell me try, try again

But oh, why did you go?

I loved you so, didn't you know?

When I remember how good it was, it makes me cry

'Cause my life's been turned upside down

All I want is someone but how do you say

Please will you stay, please will you stay?

I'll settle down to the life of a clown to remain alive

I'll work till I bleed and if I can succeed, maybe I'll survive

But oh, why did you go?

I loved you so, didn't you know?

But oh, why did you go?

I loved you so, didn't you know?
