

Questioning My Sanity

L7

I'm saving my piss in a jar
This depression has gone too far
I'm lying here in bed
Am I alive or am I dead? I'm questioning my sanity
The paint chips are kicking in Desperation bubbles my skin
There's stuff crawling on the floor
Crackers with black books knocking at my door
The TV's talking to me
I'm questioning my sanity
Everybody have a breakdown
I haven't changed my clothes in weeks
I'm wallowing in my own stink
My ass is sore from lying in bed
Am I alive or am I dead?
