

How Long Is Too Long

The Get Up Kids

You keep hanging on for more
Building walls around the words around the world I keep tripping over hints
I keep spilling every secret
Without spilling any secrets at all Don't you know? Of course you don't
Of course you don't, the words might choke
How long is too long when you're waiting by the phone? Did the issue go this far?
Did you set this higher standard for yourself? I know it's not a fault
Though I really have to wonder
If you'd ever set the standard without help Don't you know? Of course you don't
Of course you don't, the words might choke
And how long is too long when you're waiting by the phone? Made up, you win, I must give in
To each their own, with all their sins You keep hanging on for more
Building walls around the words around the world Don't you know? Of course you don't
Of course you don't, the words might choke
This small town takes every ounce to build its smoke
How long is too long when you're waiting by the phone? When you're waiting by the phone
