

Map Of Your Head

The String Quartet

I'm sick of feeding my soul
To people who'll never know
Just how purposeless
And empty they've grown Because their language confuses
Like computers refuse
To understand how I'm feeling today I'm freezing
And losing my way
I don't need another
Map of your head I am freezing
And losing my way
I don't need another
Map of your head I saw a liquid control
That gives life to a soul
I hit my head on it
And woke up to know That I was all alone
Wearing just socks and a phone
Someone screaming like
Their world might explode Yeah, I'm freezing
And losing my way
I don't need another
Map of your head I'm freezing
And losing my way
I don't want another
Map of your head Freezing
And losing my way
I don't want another
Map of your head I'm freezing
And losing my way
I don't need another
Map of your head, yeah
