

Keeping

Embrace

Keeping me up on my feet was a love so complete
I have chased but never bettered
Everything seemed like it fell at our feet
Now she's out of my reach and there forever And in the end I wished it all would burn
You are everywhere now you are gone
There's no stone left I have not found unturned But like a tidal wave that never breaks
I will run and run and never stay
'Cause there's no way back, that I can face
And no one's come to take your place Sweeping me clean off my feet, you and me were so sweet
Now the taste has left me bitter
Memory lean only gets you one way
And that's back to the place and there forever And in the end I wished it all would burn
You are everywhere now you are gone
There's no stone left I have not found unturned But like a tidal wave that never breaks
I will run and run and never stay
'Cause there's no way back that I can face
And no one's come to take your place You won't love, you won't love
You won't love Like a tidal wave that never breaks
I will run and run and never stay
'Cause there's no way back that I can face
And no one's come to take your place Keeping me up on my feet was a love so complete
I have chased but never bettered
