

Lonely Hearts' Boulevard

Paddy and the Rats

Let's start your life on this parade take a deep breath and stop this old masquerade
And we're singing out
Loud and proud all the pain
While we're marching

On the Lonely Hearts' BoulevardREPEATThink you're the only Who's feeling lonely
You love to hate yourself
You're lost and broken Have to join in

The Band of the damnedCoz all of us is wearing scars
The deepest cut is what we are
So never ever think about the shame
Coz it reminds you when you see it Don't succumb when you're defeated

Coz you are here to bear the painLet's start your life on this parade
take a deep breath and
stop this old masquerade
And we're singing out
Loud and proud all the pain
While we're marching

On the Lonely Hearts' BoulevardYou only feel alive
When the cold knife
Cuts into deep
Life is ignored
When you feel bored

You lose everythingIt's just a desperate cry for help Coz today is just another hell
But you're the one who bring you out from there
You only think your soul is dying

Til' you find the silver lining

And if you really want it, it's everywhereLet's start your life on this parade
take a deep breath and
stop this old masquerade
And we're singing out
Loud and proud all the pain
While we're marching

On the Lonely Hearts' BoulevardCoz there's a lot of pain

While we're marching

Down trough the life

And there's a lot of fear

As we walk through the dark

On the Lonely Hearts' BoulevardLet's start your life on this parade

take a deep breath and

stop this old masquerade

And we're singing out

Loud and proud all the pain

While we're marching

On the Lonely Hearts' BoulevardLet's start your life on this parade

take a deep breath and

stop this old masquerade

And we're singing out

Loud and proud all the pain

While we're marching

On the Lonely Hearts' Boulevard

Lyrics provided by

<https://damlyrics.com/>