

Almost Honest

Josh Kelley

So in the meantime
You'll be resting on my mind
For the last time
I would leave myself behindIn the evenings
Raise a glass and tell some lies
Make a pass, impress another girl
She was easy on the eyesShe was easy
And so was IMy reflection
In the window when I ride
For Chicago
She is on the other sideTake a picture
Write a letter to my love
Well, I was almost honest
I was almost honestBeen a long time
Since I've lay with you in bed
Conversations
Full of words you never saidI got your message
But I didn't hear the ringing bell
I gave into the loneliness
But I didn't give them nothing elseWhich direction
Down this highway that I ride
To Atlanta
She is on the other sideTake a picture
Write a letter to my love
I was almost honest
Well, I was almost honest
Yeah, ohMy reflection
In the window when I ride
Could not save us
But I swear to God I triedTake a picture
Write a letter to my love
I was almost honest
But I was almost honest
'Cause I was almost honest
