

Find Me Tonight

Everyday Sunday

Yesterday, I could not feel this

Today I'm sick of trying

To live like I can live on my own

This world around me is suffocating

I keep forgetting to turn and run into YouSo find me, wherever I am won't You find me?

I've got myself lost

And I don't think I want to be roaming in heartache

Please find me tonightI make it hard and I can't stand it

Can't drag my head around it

I wrestle with You more than I should

I make a mess of everything

But you see the best in me

I'll never be too far goneSo find me, wherever I am won't You find me?

I've got myself lost

And I don't think I want to be roaming in heartache

Please find me tonightYou speak without sound

Your love is so loud

You always save me

You speak without sound

Your love is so loud

You always save meSo find me, I don't want to be roaming

So find me, wherever I am won't You find me?

I've got myself lost

And I don't think I want to be roaming in heartache

Please find me tonight, tonight, tonight
