In a Vacant Grave

Six Feet Under

Open the grave and taste the smell of death the body festers
from flesh to bone
eternity
we sufferwhere we lie and calcify
the nonexistent after life we're just born to die
we're just
born to dieterminationdecomposition of human flesh
the brain, it dies
the body fails
to coffin nail
a painful end to this lifein a vacant grave
the soul i desecrate
in your empty tomb
it's too late for yousuffering
in constant pain
suicide
you cut your veins
to hide the lies
bleed out of your life
i violate the deadin a vacant grave
in your empty tomb
its too late for youopen the grave and taste the smell of death
the body festers
from flesh to bone
we suffer
into a holewhere we lie and calcify
the nonexistent after life
we're just
the brain, it dies
to coffin nail

in your empty tomb
in constant pain
its too late for you
