

Changing of the Guard

The Style Council

Changes of clothes and summer showers
Like changing the guard it only lasts for hours
Wondering what and where did it go
Crying over nothing worth crying for
Once in a while I still think about
The smile on your face, girl, the first time around
I'm wondering what and who your doing it with Crying over nothing, worth crying for, still
Just now and then, I still get it
That same old feeling, I can't forget it
Wondering why and where did it go
Trying not to let myself need you so
Changes of mind, I have my doubts
I'm sure I was right but I'm not sure now
Wondering why and where did I go
Trying not to let them get to me so
Once in a while I just can't help it
It's that same old feeling and how I regret it
Wondering why I miss you so
Crying over nothing worth it all
Baby please, if there's a chance
Let's throw out the past and get something back
I'm wondering why did we part at all
Crying over nothing worth crying for
Oh, crying over nothing worth crying for
Oh, crying over nothing worth crying for

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>