

Where The Sour Turns To Sweet (demo 1968)

Genesis

We're waiting for you
Come and join us now
We need you with us
Come and join us now
Look inside your mind
See the darkness is creeping in
I can see the softness there
Where the sunshine is gliding in
Fill your mind with love
Find the world of future glory
You can meet yourself
Where the sour turns to sweet
Leave your ugly selfish shell
To melt in the glowing flames
Can you sense the change
See your eyes, now you listen
We're waiting for you
Come and join us now
We want you with us
Come and join us now
Paint your face all white
To show the peace inside
Drift away while the saffron burns
To the land where the rainbow ends
Can you sense the change
See your eyes, now focus
We're waiting for you
Come and join us now
We need you with us
Come and join us now ...
We're waiting for you
Come and join us now
We need you with us
Come and join us now
Look inside your mind
See the darkness is creeping in
I can see the softness there
Where the sunshine is gliding in
Fill your mind with love

Find the world of future glory
You can meet yourself
Leave your ugly selfish shell
To melt in the glowing flames
Can you sense the change
Come and join us now
We want you with us
Come and join us now
To the land where the rainbow ends
Can you sense the change
See your eyes, now focus
Come and join us now
We need you with us
Come and join us now ...
